

POTTERY CINERARY URN

The seated figure of a man is the effigy of the deceased whose ashes were deposited within the urn through the aperture in the back. The upper part of the man's body is nude; in his right hand he holds the tip of his garment.

CHIUSI, ETRURIA
Fourth Century B.C.

PRESENTED BY STANLEY FIELD, EDWARD E. AYER,
WATSON F. BLAIR, RICHARD T. CRANE, JR.,
GEORGE MANIERRE, AND GEORGE F. PORTER, 1910

96592