

A

ENT.

FIELD COLUMBIAN MUSEUM.

17-9

No 6488

Country

W. S. Colombia

People

Indians of Paya

Locality

Orthmus of Parana

Name

Head dress of straw band and feathers

(over)

- 4 upright feathers - worn at feasts

Collection

U.S. Colombian Exped. W. G. B.
Rostrop & Rizon (collector)

Where Placed

Notes

Series 4 Plate B
Worn at feastsC page 101
Museum Catalogue

ACC. 13

exh. 1918.

Feather headdresses are one of the typical forms of ornament throughout this region. They are worn only by men on festival occasions. The broad band of plaited cane which forms the foundation is characteristic of this particular region. The feathers are those of the guacamayo.