

ENT A

FIELD MUSEUM OF NATURAL HISTORY—ETHNOLOGY

16-19

190777

Field No.

Provenience: Mato Grosso, Brazil, Aldeia Camararé,
Rio Camararé

People or Culture: Nambiquara Indians, kithauhlú band

Object: shuttlecock

Material: corn husks

Description: Corn husks are bound together so as to form a shuttlecock. They are tied with cotton string behind the head. Stripes have been painted on the head with the juice of the berry of Bixa orellana.

Neg. No.

49

Dimensions: head diam: 9.5; length: 32.5
(in cm.)

Acc.

3133

Collection: P. David Price, collector, 1968-1969

REC'D JUL 8 1970

