

FIELD MUSEUM OF NATURAL HISTORY--ETHNOLOGY

39-29

A
249157
Field No.	Provenience: Papua New Guinea, West Sepik Province, Aitape District, Serra , Sarai Village.
447	People: Serra people
	Object: Arrow ( andrang )
	Material: cane, wild buai, bush rope
Temp. No. Serra "R"	Description: Arrow for hunting flying fox and birds. Tiktik shaft of ( turyong ) with a hatchmark and diagonal line design. Arrow has three points of wild buai ( tana ); each point has three barbs per side. Points attached to shaft with bush rope ( nim ). Points are collectively called ( andrang atEk ).
	Made by Anton Anta, Mainropong clan, sold by son Domnic Maintau. Sold as a set with Nos. 442-448.
Neg. No.	Dimensions: l.=172.0 cm; w.(shaft) = 1.2 cm; w.(head) = 1.3 cm
	Collected by Robert L. Welsch, John Terrell, & Wilfred Oltomo
Acc. 3899	Collection: A. B. Lewis Project Expedition, 1993-1994