

AN ATTENDANT OF THE DEAD

Slender, solid clay figure freely modeled by hand. Clad in wide trousers, shoes, and coat with long, drooping sleeves. The folds of the garment are indicated by deep incisions, which were originally filled with a red pigment. He held an offering in his perforated left hand.

HONAN PROVINCE

Fifth to Sixth Century A.D.