

HILL JAR

Coated with a brown glaze. The cover is modeled into ranges of hills with a single peak emerging in the center, symbolizing the Isles of the Blest. In burying a jar of this type, the mourner expressed the wish that his deceased relative might be reborn in this region of the immortals.

HAN PERIOD

✓
118469